In the Cross Hairs

Its the newest craze, Henrys with cross bows! So far two different cross bows have been purchased by Henrys with buck fever. Gene, Scott, and Rick went in on one. George bought the other. All four believe they will better their chances of bringing down the big one by virtue of the extended hunting season the cross bow allows. Traditional shotgun hunting is limited to a relatively short one week in November. Henrys extended this by about a week by adopting the use of cap and ball muskets. The cross bow season greatly extends the season by starting early in October and ending in January. The average crossbow costs about $300. It shoots a 30" arrow and is equipped with a scope which makes it very accurate within a range of about 30 yards. No deer have been taken via crossbow yet, but sources say it's only a matter of time. With only two plates left on the deer plaque in the shed, the pressure is on.

Hall of Fame

Uncle Fred was recently honored by being inducted into the Hiram Athletic Hall of Fame. The aware was received for him by Chris. Jim Sponseller presented Fred and spoke of his many accomplishments which include football, javelin throw, the debate team, and of course his great contributions to the Hiram aceppella choir.

At the ceremony, Chris recalled that Fred was very proud of the fact that he held the Hiram javelin throw record for a number of years. In fact, she recalls, he would openly brag of this. Finally, his record was broken. But still he bragged of holding the record for the woman's javelin throw. When a woman finally beat his best throw, he stopped bragging.

Congratulations to us all for being related to such a wonderful and now famous person.

6th Annual Janet Henry Memorial Golf Classic

Scott pulled off another great outing this summer. With about 60 people attending the classic this year. A healthy contribution was made to the Hiram scholarship fund in Janet's name. The outing also contributed to KC's therapeutic riding center.

Halloween Party

Scott and Paula's annual Halloween party was a great success. Maybe the best one ever. The creatures of the night rocked the night away with a professional disk jockey at the shed. Close to one hundred people arrived. Costumes ranged from Ninja Turtles to a 250+ LB (male) Ms. Piggy. KC won the female best costume trophy with her witch costume. Polly was probably 1st runner-up. She was painted gold and posed motionless on a platform with her tennis racket as a phony trophy. Ms. Piggy won in the men's division. There was a trophy for best couple's costume. That went to Rhett Butler and Scarlet O'Hara. Their real identity is unknown to me. Cori and Holly, who went as a couple of poker cards reportedly got the party rolling when they started a Limbo line out by the bon fire.

Paula acted as the hostess of the party while Scott and Jim ran the hay ride. People were moved out to Erin's Mountain where a beer keg and a bon fire warmed all. A real toilet seat was placed in the shed outhouse for the occasion making this the most posh event ever held at the shed.

Polly's Place

Polly moved into a new apartment recently. The apartment is on South Main Street in Chagrín Falls. She has two roommates. She found out about the place throw Heidi. Her new roommates throw a "Welcome Polly" party.

Simon's New Stone

Simon and Rhoda Henry both RIP in the Bainbridge township's southeast cemetery on Haskins road. among other things, Simon was the first Henry in the Bainbridge area. Although Rhoda's stone is still standing, Simon's stone has fallen off its foundation, and the writing is all but totally worn away. It has been agreed to have a new stone engraved to replace the existing one. The approximate cost of the new stone will be $500.

Simon was the father of John, who was the father of Charles, who was the father of Frederick A., who was the father of Charles, who fathered my father.

By the Way:

Jim and Grace have a new 89' Dodge Caravan

Erin's soccer team played Adam's team and won with a score 1-0

Happy birthday to Sam who turned 1 on October 19.

John and Barb will be in Ohio November 16 staying with Jeanne and Gene. They will be attending the wiser generation's cousins party at Lou and Herald's place in Parma. BYOF (Bring Your Own Flamingo)

Chip feels Great!!!

Brian has been selected to play in the exclusive indoor soccer league.

Keith is potty trained ... mostly.

Jim and his class of first graders have been very successful with their cider making business. They get their apples off the ground at Paterson's Fruit Farm for 5 cents a pound.

George is excited about his new job in down town Cleveland. The Job, like his last job, is computer related. Congratulation George!

KC was recently in the newspaper for her participation in Special Olympic therapeutic riding.

Dan and Cindy's area, Kodiak Island, received over twelve inches of rain in three day. Mud slides wiped out miles of their local roads.

Dodie and Pete are hoping Noko, their dog, will soon recover from his gun shot wound in the leg. After many complication, Noko is out of his cast and on tranquilizers to keep him off the leg.

Dan and Cindy are having a good year in Ouzinkie AK. They are a part of a progressive 5 teacher school that is receiving a lot of attention from the state and is being used as a model small Alaskan school.

Gene hunted Sitka black tail deer on Spruce Island in AK during his most recent visit. He saw two, but didn't take a shot. Jeanne spent her time hiking and canning salmon.

Polly was approached by an "interesting man" at the Halloween party and was asked to dance. Just when things were getting interesting, about 15 cousins gathered around her and Mr. Maybe. Although he was scared off, he dropped a shoe on the way out.

If he's in the county, Polly will find him!

Mike Finds a WOMAN in the Desert

I called Mike the other day just to find out what's up. Here is my report.

Mike sold out his part of the eight year old architectural services business he was in. He sold his quarter of the business to two other partners. He then started another one of his own. The main gist of his new business is to explore and design projects for clients, and then to work out details with contractors until the job is complete.

Now that Mike is his own boss completely, he looks forward to spending his extra time with Pace and Vaune. One of their favorite haunts is in the near by desert. Recently, they were visiting an old Indian ruin. Although they had been to this particular ruin before, it was different now after a recently diverted stream had altered the topography. It was on this trip that trio discovered a seven hundred year old woman (name unknown). First they found her femur. Next they found her pelvis. Finally, they actually recovered her skull. When I talked to Mike, he had plans to go with Pace's class back to the same site to look for more treasure. Good luck Mike. Keep your canteen full.

Dedushka

Cindy lost her grandfather on October 27, 1991. He died at the age of 72 leaving behind a wife, 7 children, 22 grand children and 3 great grand children. George Bourdukofsky, or Dedushka (great grandfather in Aleut) will be remember and missed greatly.

George Junior

George and Sharon will be in the cabbage patch harvesting in May or June of next year. (having a baby) Congratulations!~!~! Remember guys this isn't going to be an easy time for George, so lets try to give him as much support as we can. (Just kidding Sharon)

Pat and Lori Juneau

Pat reports that he is hopeful about a new teaching position that will soon be opening up in the Juneau schools.

Pat and Lori lived through Robyn's Halloween party. 22 lively middle school kids were given rule of the house for a total of four hours and seven minutes. Pat provided support with ghost stories, game organization and crowd control. When it was all over, Robyn found she had 5 Snickers, 18 suckers, 6 Hershey bars, and a boyfriend. Not a bad haul. I hope none of it is rotten. Watch her guys.
