

The Henry Howler

March 91

Heidi

Dear Family

A special thank you to all that attended Sam's Christening. You'll never know how much it meant to me (us) to have the people we care about the most with us. It was a very special day.

Sadly, there are some very special people that will be missing from Sam's life. But he'll get to know them through memories we share.

The beat goes on-
Thank goodness for all of you!

Lots of love,
Heidi, Jim, and Sam

Cori

I just finished reading the latest edition of the Henry Howler. Since I am away at college. I always feel as though I am missing out on what the "family" is doing, and now I feel so much more informed! I am also very happy to have in my possession the biographical sketches about Grandma.

Now that the possible plans of me traveling to the Great Land up North have been published, I feel even more compelled to come and visit. I guess I'm stuck between doing what's practical and responsible and doing what sounds like the most fun!

I will be graduating in June. I plan to take a year off to make some money before getting into graduate school. I'll try to get a job pertaining to my major which is counseling or something similar. Living at home would be the best way to save money while working, but of course doesn't sound half as exciting as traveling to Alaska. I'll be writing to Patrick to have him keep an eye open for jobs in my field. The kind of jobs I might be interested in are; adolescent homes for emotionally disturbed children, psychiatric ward of a hospital, or any other job that would deal with emotional counseling.

My family is doing great. Dad just got back from skiing with George up in Killington, VT. Mom is busy with school plans and keeping her kids busy. Holly is working and playing hard and finding out what it is like to be a "swinging single." I am the one in college and she has more dates that I do. I'm waiting out the doldrums of winter quarter for Spring Break so I can cruise down to Galveston Texas with 6 friends. This will be my first official college spring break trip ever. I can't wait. I'll be down in Galveston from March 16 - March 23.

Hugs and kisses. I miss you all

Janet received "Reserved Championship" in her latest horse show (1st, 2nd and 3rd place ribbons in the same show - different classes)

Andy ended the wrestling season seated forth in his weight class at the Dodge Tournament which is the largest wrestling tournament in Ohio.

Bergman News

Family of Champions

Bobbi will star in the Chagrin Falls High school musical as the youngest actress in The Sound of Music!!! She's so excited.

Dan

We AKns have a lot to look forward to up here. Mom and dad will be in AK on the 17th of this month. They will fly to Juneau to visit Pat and Lori. (Oh Lori, my gosh you must be nervous. Remember, just act natural). Next stop will be Kodiak and finally Danger Bay. We have one of the hunting lodges staked out for the weekend mom and dad are here. It will be a nice get away for Cindy the boys and I as well. We've had some great damming tides this past week, and the crab pots have not been idle either, so we should be dining on some good grub.

I may leave on the same plane with mom and dad on my way to Houston. I'll be going on grant money to the National Science Teachers Association Convention. The school district has granted me a full weeks leave. (Paid) I realize this leaves my beautiful Cindy holding the bag. But like the rest of you understanding, dedicated Henry (and other assorted) woman, she will support her man in his every whim. (You know she didn't proof read for me if this is still here).

This weekend, I'm flying to the next Island over with four of my high school kids for some volleyball. We never win, but we always have a good time.

I have received a lot of support for the Howler. Its a lot of fun doing it. I feel like I'm getting a lot more than I'm giving. Remember the Henry Motto, "Do not ask what your family can do for you, but what you can do for your family."

Pete, you sly Dog

It was supposed to be a computer work shop in Cleveland. But it turned out to be much more.

On Thursday 2/28, Pete and Dodie left the kids with mom and dad's for what Dodie thought would be an overnight. The plan was that Peter would attend a computer work shop in Cleveland while Dodie window shopped. What really happened is that they had a special night with dinner and everything in Cleveland Thursday. Friday morning, they flew off for the weekend to the Miami Florida area. While they are there, they stayed in a hotel that was decorated with a fifties theme. Peter thought they would spend most of the time soaking up the sun or collecting shells for the kids. There is a big golf tournament at the Doral Country Club that Pete thought they might stop in on. They got back on Sunday 3/3.

Happy birthday Dodie. Hope you both had a great trip. (Thanks a lot Pete. This kind of thing sets precedents you know.)

Lenten Reflections

Grace contributed some quotes from her children in the Methodist Lenten Reflections book. . .

"What's under the basement floor, Mom?" Todd asked me the other day.
"Dirt," I replied.
"And what is under the dirt?" He asked.
"More dirt," I answered.
"No! God's hands!" Todd exclaimed. "He's got the whole world in His hands!"
You are so right, Todd. The whole world is in His hands.

Amen.

Erin

Erin was chatting to my dad on the phone the other night. They were discussing the great-grandparents. "Two more years and H. H. Henry will be 100 years old," Erin commented. "I want her to live to be 100. I want to live to be 100 too!" As the conversation continued, I could tell that Dad was telling about his Aunt Lena. She lived to see her 100th birthday. Erin was curious about her and began asking lots of questions. "You know that she is alive, Grandpa," she said. "Aunt Lena is in heaven. Even though she died, she is alive!

You live forever in heaven."

How true! Life everlasting!
Amen!

Pat

Today, as Cindy and I were watching the evening news, guess who we saw eating worms on state wide TV? Yep, Pat. He made a bet with one of his math classes involving attendance, and he lost. He was seated at a formal dinner setting with two other high school administrators ready to feast on meal worms. Whata hose head!

He and Lori are in their new house snug as bugs. He'll be trying to get his boat afloat before mom and dad get here.
